2. The rates of fare established by the Commission's order of July 3, 1925, and now in effect shall be continued for the full trial period of six months prescribed by the Federal Court.

3. On or after February 1, 1926, either the Company or the city may apply to the Commission for a modification of the rates of fare, upon the ground that the rates of fare in effect under the Commission's order are producing either less or more operating income than the Company is entitled to receive under the Commission's findings of valuation and rate of return. On such application either party may present evidence to the Commission bearing upon traffic, revenue and operating expenses during the trial period, and for a period of six months thereafter both parties shall agree to abide by the Commission's decision upon such applications; at the end of the first period of six months following such decision, either party in like manner may again apply for an adjustment of the rate of fare based upon the Company's operating experience under the Commission's last previous order, and both parties shall abide by the Commission's new decision in the matter for another period of six months.

4. In the event that neither party applies to the Commission within one year after the expiration of the current trial period of six months, or if such application is made, then at the expiration of the period of six months after the Commission's second decision subsequent to February 1, 1926, or in any event at the end of two years after said date, the effect of this stipulation shall cease and the parties shall revert to their respective rights under the statute.

5. In any proceedings upon application of either party for an adjustment of the rates of fare based solely upon operating experience pursuant to this stipulation, the city shall have access to the Company's books and records to the same extent that it has such access in a rate and valuation proceeding initiated under the statute.

6. While this stipulation remains in effect the city shall retain its control of service as prescribed by statute, but the effect of any modification in service requirements may be presented to the Commission in evidence upon any application for an adjustment of the rate of fare as herein set forth.

This stipulation shall be filed with the Commission, with the Federal District Court and with the District Court of Hennepin County.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL AND JOINT COMMITTEES.

From the Minneapolis Street Railway Company—Communication declining proposal of the City Council in accordance with action taken on October 13, 1925, and suggesting a counter proposal. Referred to Special Committee on Street Railways and Buses.

From Neil M. Cronin, City Attorney—Communication submitting letter from Attorney General's office and memorandum concerning proposed settlement of street railway litigation. Referred to Special Committee on Street Railways and Buses.

Alderman Benson moved that the communication from the Minneapolis Street Railway Company and the memorandum from the Attorney General's office be published in full in the proceedings of this meeting.

Adopted.

Following are the communications referred to:

FROM THE MINNEAPOLIS STREET RAILWAY COMPANY—

In spite of my letter of October 15, 1925 to you, I am in receipt of the same proposition formally passed by the Council that your Committee submitted and that, on the part of the Company, I rejected.

I am entirely unable to follow the workings of your City Attorney's mind, whose advice I assume you are following, as he has repeatedly heard me advise your Committee how our Company felt about the whole matter, and if you really want a settlement, he knows it can be brought about without prejudice to the city's interests.

In again declining this proposal, I can only repeat what I said then—that such proposal is not intended to settle the controversy at all, but in fact is designed to provide two years of troubled armistice and at the end of that time to reopen the entire dispute and everything involved. It specifically provides for more hearings during the next two years and then for a general trial of all the issues that we have spent the last four years in litigating. Moreover, this general re-trial of all the issues is scheduled to come at the very time when we will be arranging for the refunding of $15,000,000 of maturing bonds, and such a situation might go so far as to force a receivership of the street railway property.

From your proposition I can only assume that the city is now willing to accept the value set upon the property by the Commission and the rate of return used by the Commission in all of its calculations, and if the city is sincere in this I can see no reason why it should not accept what I am about to propose and not vaguely assume that there might be "a nigger in the woodpile" because we propose it, particularly as I have only heard this Ethiopian hinted at and no one has been able to point him out to me. Therefore, in order to effect a real settlement that will be worth while and accomplish something, I suggest that the city pass suitable resolutions providing:

1. That both parties go before the court, or the courts for that matter, and accept the valuation found by the Commission and its engineers after years of investigation and listening to the experts on both sides.

2. That both parties go before the court and accept the rate of return used by the Commission in all of its calculations.

3. That both parties go before the court and ask that they be referred to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission in order to have a rate of fare fixed which will produce the above return on the agreed value.

The above plan gives no advantage to either side, as the law itself provides that at any time either party or the Commission can re-open the case. The practical effect, however, is that the present controversy and all the disputes in it will be settled and the matter can only be re-opened in the event of changed conditions, which of course should be so. Such a new proceeding would be simple and short, whether before the Commission or the court, and would not involve the enormous expense which we have gone through in the recent proceedings and which your proposal would open up again in two years.

I am not unmindful of the fact that in asking you to make the above offer, with the assurance that I will recommend it to our Board of Directors, we are preparing to give up several important claims which are not only substantial in amount but which we consider sound. We are willing to do so, however, for the purpose of compromising and effecting a real settlement of this long drawn-out and very expensive controversy, and in order that it may be accomplished in definite and businesslike form, we suggest that the City Council pass the attached resolution.

Very respectfuly submitted,
HORACE LOWRY,
President.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S MEMORANDUM

Concerning a proposed settlement of pending litigation over street railway fares by stipulation in federal court, it should be said:

The Railroad and Warehouse Commission cannot voluntarily stipulate or agree to anything except that it will perform its duties under the law. It cannot surrender any part of its jurisdiction or stipulate that the judgment or decree of any tribunal, state or federal, shall be substituted for the findings, conclusions, and orders of the commission. It cannot bind itself to any course of future conduct except that which the legislature has prescribed by law.

Similarly, the Attorney General cannot stipulate or agree to anything except that he will enforce the law.

All of this is as true with respect to the particular case now in question as in respect to all cases generally.

But the other parties to the present litigation, namely the Street Railway Company, and the City of Minneapolis, by first dismissing the action as to the commission and the Attorney General, may thereafter stipulate to any judgment or decree within the jurisdiction of that court.

Ernest C. Carman, Assistant Attorney General.

October 22, 1925.

From the Special Committee on Street Railways and Buses—

Your committee which has had under consideration a compromise settlement with the Minneapolis Street Railway Company, report that the proposal of the City Council was submitted to the Minneapolis Street Railway Company and rejected; that accompanying Mr. Lowry's letter of rejection was a counter-proposal, which your committee, after due deliberation and considerable discussion believes should be accepted by the city in order that expenses and long delayed litigation may be avoided:

We, there, report and recommend:

1. That the City of Minneapolis propose to the Minneapolis Street Railway Company that both accept and agree upon the findings of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of the State of Minnesota dated July 3, 1925 as to the fair value, as of January 1, 1925 of the street railway property of the Minneapolis Street Railway Company within the City of Minneapolis, said fair value as so fixed and determined being $26,787,228.11; and that the fair value of any additions to such property since January 1, 1925, be submitted to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

2. That the City of Minneapolis propose to the Minneapolis Street Railway Company that both accept and agree upon seven and one-half (7½) per cent as a fair rate of return upon the fair value of such property, that being the rate of return to which the Minneapolis Street Railway Company is entitled and the rate of return employed by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission in all of its calculations.

3. That, in event of acceptance of the foregoing by the Minneapolis Street Railway Company, filed with the City Clerk on or before October 26, 1925, this shall become a binding agreement between the City of Minneapolis and the Minneapolis Street Railway Company and the City Attorney is authorized and directed to enter into such stipulations in the pending suit in the United States District Court for the District of Minnesota, Fourth Division, and to institute such proceedings in the State District Court for the County of Hennepin as shall procure a confirmation of such agreement, and thereafter both parties shall co-operate to institute and expedite such proceedings before the Railroad and Warehouse Commission as may be necessary to determine the fair value of certain additions since January 1, 1925 and to fix the proper rate of fare on the foregoing basis, and that the stipulations in the United States District Court shall be in substantially the following form:

The plaintiff, Minneapolis Street Railway Company, and defendants, City of Minneapolis and Neil M. Cronin, City Attorney of the City of Minneapolis, hereby stipulate and agree that the findings of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of the State of Minnesota dated July 3, 1925 as to the fair value, as of January 1, 1925, of the street railway property of said Minneapolis Street Railway Company within the City of Minneapolis, said fair value as so fixed and determined being $26,787,228.11, be accepted and a like fair value be found by this court; that the value of certain additions since January 1, 1925 be left to the determination of said Railroad and Warehouse Commission; that seven and one-half (7½) per cent is a fair rate of return upon the fair value of such property and the rate of return to which said Minneapolis Street Railway Company is entitled; that the court refer the parties hereto to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of the State of Minnesota to have determined the value of certain additions since January 1, 1925 and to have fixed the proper rate of fare on the basis herein provided; and that the court make and enter its decree accordingly.

Section 2. Every person desiring to sell fuel as described and referred to in Section 1 of this ordinance shall file an application for a license for that purpose with the City Clerk, which application shall be made in writing to such Clerk wherein the applicant shall specify (a) the name under which applicant intends to sell and (or) deliver fuel; the nature of applicant as a person, firm or corporation; (b) the exact location or full address of all fuel storage or delivery yards, and all other places of business (one of which it shall designate as a principal place of business), maintained or used by it or its agents for the sale of fuel.

From the Standing Committee on Efficiency and Economy—

Your committee, to whom was referred the matter of clerical help being employed to assist the Commission in the spreading of assessments, report and recommend as follows:

After conference with the City Attorney and discussion of the matter, it is believed that the detail work of the Commission may be very greatly reduced and much time of the Commission saved, if the Commission, with the consent of the City Council, is authorized to call for such clerical help from the Planning Commission as may be needed to do all necessary drawing of plats, diagrams, working papers, and making calculations and computations to assist the Commission in arriving at a determination of the proper amounts to be assessed.

There appears to be no legal or practical objection to having a tentative spreading of assessments, pursuant to general directions of the Commission, the Clerk or Engineer then to submit to the Commission a proposed scheme of assessments, with such plats, diagrams and explanatory matter as may be requested; this tentative draft of the proposed scheme of assessments to be canvassed, discussed and considered by the Commission and changes made, as may be deemed necessary by the Commission, before arriving at its final decision. This method does not in any way relieve the Commission from its duty to finally determine what the assessments are to be, but it relieves the Commission of the detail work of making calculations and plans.

It is accordingly recommended that the Commission be authorized to secure such clerical help from the Planning Commission upon the foregoing basis, as may be approved by the City Council.

John Peterson, John P. Ekberg, F. H. Brown, O. J. Turner, P. J. Pryts, Committee.

Adopted.

From the Standing Committee on Efficiency and Economy—

Your committee respectfully recommends that the City Engineer be directed to make a survey of all city insurance under the jurisdiction of the City Council; that all renewals of policies and all new policies be first submitted to the City Engineer to determine the amount of insurance to be placed on each property item; report of such survey to be submitted to the City Council; that the City Engineer be directed to include in his report recommendations as to property damage and liability insurance to be carried on trucks and sweepers and whether such insurance should be cancelled during the time of year that such machines are not in service.

We further recommend that all city insurance be placed for a five-year period in order that the city may take advantage of the two years' free insurance under the five-year policy; that all insurance submitted by the City Engineer be referred to the Public Grounds and Buildings committee for consideration, and that the record of all insurance on city property be kept by card index system in the City Clerk's office.

From the Standing Committee on Commerce, Markets and Harbors—

Your Committee on Commerce, Markets and Harbors, appointed to attend the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which convened at Washington, D. C., on the 9th and 10th days of December, 1925, submit the following report:

Your committee, en route to Washington, stayed for a few hours in the City of Chicago, and Harry G. Benton, Secretary and representative of the Minneapolis Real Estate Board, arranged for a meeting with Hallock W. Seaman, member of the Board of Advisors of the Inland Waterways Corporation, and your committee conferred with him and James E. Smith, also a member of the Board of Advisors, and Lachlean MacLeay, Secretary of the Upper Mississippi River Association. A discussion followed of the Act governing the operation of the Inland Waterways Corporation and plans were outlined for action of the delegation at Washington. This was a very interesting and instructive conference.

The Minneapolis delegation and the St. Paul delegation occupied one pullman which was attached to five pullman cars occupied by the Illinois delegation and which composed a special through train from Chicago to Washington, D. C. The Illinois delegation numbered more than 75 delegates, among whom were prominent Illinois officials, including Mr. John H. Camlin, President of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce from Rockford, Illinois. The Illinois delegation later at Washington held their own banquet at which their Congressmen and Senators were their guests and they took that opportunity of impressing upon their representatives at Washington the importance of the development of the Mississippi waterway.

Upon arrival in Washington, D. C., your committee met in conference with representatives from the Minneapolis Real Estate Board and the Upper Mississippi River Cities committee. Previous to the arrival of your committee, Mr. W. W. Morse, Chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Upper Mississippi River Development and also Secretary of the Upper Mississippi River Cities Barge Line Company, Mr. Wiprud of Minneapolis, Col. Lambert of St. Paul, an attorney, member of the Upper Mississippi River Committee, and Chas. Gotshall, representing Deere & Webber Company of Minneapolis, shippers, had done considerable advance work in making a study of the negotiations of the Government with Col. Goltra in reference to the Government owned barges on the lower Mississippi River and of matters pertaining to the development and operation of the Upper Mississippi River Cities Barge Line.

The important matter considered by this conference was whether the Secretary of War could authorize the operation of terminal facilities and develop a new barge line in order to serve the public without special authorization from the Congress of the United States. In order that this report may be clear we present the following information concerning the Act creating the Inland Waterways Corporation.

The 68th Congress passed a law entitled: "An Act to create the Inland Waterways Corporation for the purpose of carrying out the mandates and purposes of Congress as expressed in Sections 201 and 500 of the Transportation Act and for other purposes." This law provides that for the purpose of carrying on the operations of the Government owned inland canal and coastwise waterways systems to the point where the system can be transferred to private operations to the best advantage of the Government, there is created in the District of Columbia a corporation known as the Inland Waterways Corporation.

Section 2 of this Act provides that the capital stock of the Inland Waterways Corporation shall be Five Million Dollars, all of which is subscribed for by the United States. Such subscription shall be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury within the appropriation therefor upon call from time to time of the Secretary of War. Upon any such payment a receipt therefor shall be issued by the Corporation to the United States and delivered to the Secretary of the Treasury and shall be evidence of stock ownership of the United States. Such Act authorized the appropriation of the sum of Five Million Dollars for the purpose of paying such subscription.

Section 3. a. This Act of 1920 further authorized that the corporation should continue the operation of the transportation and terminal facilities being operated by and under the direction of the Secretary of War and shall as soon as there is an improved channel sufficient to permit the same, initiate the water carriage heretofore authorized by law upon the Mississippi River above St. Louis.

b. If the Secretary of War deems it advisable to discontinue the operation of any part of the transportation and the terminal facilities or to develop and operate new lines in order to give the public the proper service, he shall report thereon to Congress. The operation of any such facilities shall not be discontinued and new lines shall not be developed or operated until authorized by Congress.

c. The operation of the transportation and terminal facilities under this Act shall be subject to the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Acts.

Your committee while in Washington called upon General Taylor, Chief Engineer. General Taylor at this conference pointed out that there is at the present time completed a 4½-foot channel on the upper river and that this channel was not being used for transportation purposes to the extent to which it should. He also intimated that the Government would be slow to make future appropriations unless use were made of this channel. Your delegation was assured by General Taylor that the appropriation for Upper Mississippi River in the sum of Two Million Dollars would be included in his budget to be submitted to Congress this session. This will provide an appropriation of $1,400,000.00 for new work and $600,000.00 for maintenance.

The important matter as heretofore pointed out is to secure the authority for the Secretary of War to proceed under the Act under which the Inland Waterways Corporation functions. It was the conclusion of your delegation that if the Secretary of War were compelled to go to Congress in order to secure special authorization to operate a barge line on the Upper Mississippi River that such attempt would meet with failure on account of other cities and other associations that would seek to take advantage of this opportunity to demand barge operations in their respective localities and amend and overload it with their respective proposals.

Your delegation also conferred with Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg to ask his assistance in securing the authorization of the Secretary of War for the proposed barge line. He agreed to confer with the Secretary of War, Secretary Hoover and the President. The following day we heard from several sources of his activities in behalf of the proposed barge line. This matter now rests with the United States Attorney General for his decision.

Alderman John Peterson, Alderman Sweeney and Harry G. Benton were appointed by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress as members of a delegation to call upon President Coolidge. This delegation which conferred with the President concerning the improvement of the Mississippi Waterways system spoke in plain and forcible terms and stated that the industries of the Middle West were slowly being strangled to death. The industries of the Middle West before the opening of the Panama Canal possessed profitable markets in the Rocky Mountain region, the Pacific Coast states and other parts of the far west. The railroad carried the freight and the Middle West was able to compete with the Atlantic seaboard in these markets. Similarly, on the basis of rail transportation, the middle western farmers were in advantageous position in competing with the agricultural producers of the far west in eastern and export markets.

This was an important factor in the great industrial and agricultural development of the Middle West. Then came the Panama Canal, affording the industries of the Atlantic coast states cheaper all water transportation to the Pacific coast—not only cheaper than the transcontinental rail rate, but cheaper than the cost of carriage by rail from the Mississippi Valley to the Far West.

Likewise the Far West was afforded cheaper transportation by the Panama Canal all water route to Atlantic coast markets than the Middle West possessed by rail. As a result, Midwestern factories and farmers soon found themselves losing seaboard region markets on each coast. They caught it going and coming; whipsawed between Atlantic and Pacific rivals. Year by year this discrimination due to the Panama Canal has shown increasing severity. The price the Mississippi Valley region is paying for the linking of the coasts by the Panama Canal amounts to a gigantic toll levied on the business of every producer in that section.

President Coolidge stated that he favored legislation at this session authorizing whatever additional construction is necessary to realize the proposed Mississippi Valley system of inland waterways and appropriations at the next session for the construction authorized.

The members of your Committee on Commerce, Markets and Harbors also called upon several Minnesota members of Congress and urged their support for the appropriation for improvement of the Mississippi Waterways system and for any assistance they might be able to render in the barge line project.

Our delegation of sixteen members from the entire State of Minnesota was the largest that has ever represented the state at the National Rivers and Harbors Congress and exerted a correspondingly greater influence. The extreme West and the extreme East have in the years past realized the importance of water transportation and have secured at session after session of Congress immense Government appropriations for the improvement of their harbors and waterways, while the Middle West have passively paid a great part of the bill in their taxes and have made comparatively small demands for the improvements of their waterways. What is worth having is worth going after. Only by constant attention and show of interest can the results now being sought by the Twin Cities be attained. This fact was brought home to your delegation in a startling manner.

At the meetings of the Minnesota delegation, which were held at the New Willard Hotel, it was a matter of comment among the members that no representatives from Duluth, who were officers of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, were present at Washington to attend the meetings of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. In other words, it appeared that the Duluth representatives and the people of St. Louis County were not particularly interested in the development of the Mississippi River but were only interested in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tidewater channel. It is a matter of common knowledge that the St. Louis County legislative delegation during the last three sessions of the Legislature secured appropriations of state funds for the support of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tidewater channel commission. In the year 1925 the Legislature appropriated $15,000 for the support of this commission. A representative of this commission from Duluth makes his home at Washington, D. C., and devotes his entire time to promote the plan for the construction of the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tidewater channel.

The importance of river navigation to Minneapolis is made materially more manifest by consideration of the rate situation at Minneapolis and throughout the Northwest. While in a report of the delegation to the Rivers and Harbors Congress it may seem that a mention of the rate situation is somewhat out of place, still at the same time, it is linked so closely with this problem that in the judgment of your committee, it seems important that a brief statement should be made.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is now reviewing an application for an increase in freight rates made by the Northwestern carriers. There is some question as to whether or not such an application would have been made by the railways had there been established upon the Mississippi River into Minneapolis a regular barge line service. This commission which is considering the present application of the Northwest carriers handed down, within the past year, an important decision which shows clearly the relationship of river navigation to any schedule of rates. Quoting in part from these decisions (as there are two of them, one known as 11388 and the other 13839) in which the rate situation into Minneapolis and St. Paul was considered and which statements were made in the decisions relative to the navigation situation in the Twin Cities:

"It is manifest that the rates from both St. Louis and Chicago to Upper Mississippi River points are depressed, owing to water competition existing from those points when the bases of rates were established many years ago." Because of this we find that the rates from Chicago to the Twin Cities are depressed and "that water competition from Chicago and St. Louis is no longer of importance in determining the rates. It is shown by the evidence to be at most potential."

There can be no greater proof of the importance of river navigation into Minneapolis than this decision handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission. When we realize that following this decision, effective June 1, 1925, there was a decided increase in freight rates into this territory from St. Louis and other points available by water transportation and that the proposed rate now applied for by the carriers is greatly in excess of the increased rate made effective only last June. As an example the rate in effect June 1, 1922, on first class freight from St. Louis to Minneapolis was 96 cents per hundred weight, the increased rate effective June 1, 1925, on the same class was $1.25 per hundred weight, and the rate proposed by the carriers is $1.58 per hundred weight.

The present increased use of the Panama Canal has been detrimental and will continue to be more so to the best interests of the Northwest for the rates now in effect from east coast cities to west coast cities and vice versa by boat through the Panama Canal is considerable less than rates from either of the coast cities to the Mississippi Valley territory by rail. The only way that the Panama Canal can be made a benefit to this territory is to develop river navigation to Minneapolis to such an extent that we may be able to load here our manufactured products in this territory and ship them to New Orleans and thence to either west or east coast ports in equal competition as far as rates are concerned with the eastern manufacturers.

In conclusion your Committee on Commerce, Markets and Harbors urges that the City Council recommend that a barge line be put in operation on the Mississippi River from Minneapolis to St. Louis during the year 1926 or as soon thereafter as possible. That the Council will recommend the issuance of bonds for terminal and railroad facilities when regular and continued barge service is assured by agreement with the City Council made by a responsible corporation. That such corporation shall maintain a regular schedule and a fleet of barges adequate to carry the freight available for shipment in this district. That according to the report of the survey made by our City Engineer there should be annually available for down river shipment over 500,000 tons of freight. Your Committee on Commerce, Markets and Harbors further recommends that the Governor of the State of Minnesota be requested to appoint a commission on Harbors and Waterways whose duties it shall be to promote not only the construction of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tidewater channel but also to promote and work for the development of the Mississippi Waterways system from St. Louis to Minneapolis, and we further recommend that a request be presented by the Hennepin County delegation to the next Legislature that an appropriation be made for the support of such Commission on Harbors and Waterways when appointed by the Governor.

MAJORITY REPORT

The Special Committee appointed by the President pursuant to motion of Alderman Kjorlaug duly passed and adopted by the City Council on the 22nd day of December, 1925, consisting of the following members: Aldermen Kjorlaug, Currie, Giebenhain, Peterson and Benson, herewith makes its report.

The committee, pursuant to action of the City Council, has held a number of hearings and heard a number of witnesses who were duly sworn and testified under oath. A transcript of all testimony has been filed in the office of the City Clerk. Upon the evidence before it, the committee makes the following findings, conclusions and recommendations:

Findings

There was some evidence presented to the committee that promotional examinations, above the rank and grade of Captain, may be properly set up in the Fire Department, provided, however, that examinations were set up with care and examiners chosen with regard for the efficiency of the Department, and recommendations of the Chief be given due and proper weight. Careful study of the Civil Service rules with respect to the promotions and ranks indicates inconsistencies and some confusion. Considerable evidence presented showed that the promotions above grade of Captain had best be made through recommendations of the Chief of the Department with the aid of his immediate assistants. That this method would best preserve the efficiency of that Department; that the best men for officers could not be selected with "pen and ink."

It appears from the evidence that the Civil Service Commission in proceeding to change the rules governing manner and method of promotions in the Fire Department, requested the Secretary of the Fire Fighters' Union and the Chief of the Department, respectively, to submit proposals. That the Commission accepted verbatim the proposals submitted by the Secretary of the Union, and that these proposals were adopted in toto, merely changed as to form.

That the proposals of the Chief of the Department were given little, if any, consideration. It also appears that there had been very little, if any, discussion among the officers or rank and file of the fire fighters in regard to these proposed changes. On the other hand, evidence shows that it was the Secretary of the Union who actively sponsored the change of rules so as to compel examinations for promotions above the rank of Captain.

Evidence presented to the committee relative to the charge that Union funds had been used for political purposes, two or three years ago, was largely based upon hearsay. Some of the witnesses denied having any knowledge of such fund. Others testified that there was a fund set up and expended, by union officers and committees, for the "good and welfare of the organization." It is not within the province of this committee to go into details in this matter. This committee has no power or authority to try any officer or member of the Fire Department. Such detailed investigation by this committee as it would necesssarily entail, could only result in charges and counter-charges by warring factions more or less inspired and encouraged by outside influences, political and otherwise.

There was no evidence presented to the committee tending to show that there is a decadence in the efficiency of the department; there was some evidence, however, showing a growing friction; that this commenced about one and one-half or two years ago. Up to this time, during the first five years of the existence of the Union, all was well and apparent harmony prevailed among men and officers, exceptions being only such as are inevitable in any department under rigid discipline such as is necessary in a Fire Department. Due to this growing condition, a majority of the officers have withdrawn from the Union, and evidence shows that they will not return to the Union so long as this condition exists and so long as the Union continues to be, in a measure, controlled by outside influences. Evidence shows that officers of the Union who are not members of the Department itself, encourage interference by political factions, both without and within the Department. It constitutes an open invitation to the disgruntled and malcontents, to a meddlesome interference with the efficiency and morale of the department.

There was no evidence before your committee showing any dissatisfaction among the men as to salaries or working conditions. Nor was there any evidence showing that the Chief of the Department has mistreated the officers or men in any manner. There was some evidence of one demotion and four or five discharges during his many years of service. However, the committee has no desire to unduly criticize any of the members of the department or officers, because we believe that Minneapolis has one of the best fire fighting forces obtainable—therefore we cannot afford to permit politicians to divide the force for their own selfish purposes.

Conclusions and Recommendations

First—That the highest efficiency under our present system of Civil Service can best be attained and maintained by promotions above the rank and grade of Captain through recommendations of the Chief of the Department with aid of his immediate assistants.

Second—That the highest degree of harmony among the officers and men of the department can only be attained when they exclude all outside influence in their own intimate affairs, and it is to the best interest of the Union that it seeks to re-establish the apparent harmony that existed when it was first organized.

Third—That both the men and officers of the Fire Department present their grievances, if at any time they have any, to the City Council in writing. The City Council is alone responsible for the Fire Department and if there was at any time any real basis for complaint or any real desire for changing rules applicable to promotions or otherwise, the City Council was the proper body with whom to lodge the complaint or request, and not the Civil Service Commission.

The committee realize full well that some politics is bound to exist in any department or board, because of the very nature of the form of our Government, but public safety demands that it be reduced to the minimum in the Fire Department. Where Civil Service is in operation, the morale and efficiency of all city departments demand that political influences be reduced to a minimum. The moment the Civil Service Commission deviates one iota, one side or the other, from a straight course of procedure, it has lost the confidence of all employes subject to Civil Service regulation. The welfare and safety of Minneapolis and its citizens depends upon an efficient fire fighting force and all political factions, within and without, should have sufficient regard for the safety of lives and property to keep hands off the Fire Department. The committee, therefore, recommends that the City Council through its proper committee take all possible precautions to guard its welfare and prevent political encreachments, in any form, in the Department.

M. U. S. Kjorlaug, Frank Giebenhain, W. A. Currie, John Peterson, Committee.

Dated at Minneapolis, this 29th day of January, 1926.

MINORITY REPORT

The Special Committee appointed by the President, pursuant to motion of Alderman Kjorlaug, duly passed and adopted by the City Council on the 22nd day of December, 1925, consisting of the following members: Aldermen Kjorlaug, Currie, Giebenhain, Peterson and Benson, for the purpose of investigating, among other things, the recent friction between the Chief of the Fire Department and Civil Service Commission, and the advisability of a change in the Civil Service rules pertaining to the Fire Department in setting up a line of promotion from Captain to Battalion Chief, herewith makes its report.

The committee pursuant to action of the City Council has held a number of hearings and heard a number of witnesses who were all duly sworn and testified under oath. A transcript of all testimony has been filed in the office of the City Clerk. Upon the evidence before it, your committee respectfully report as follows:

First—There was placed before your committee a charge that funds of the Fire Fighters' Union were used to promote candidacies in the municipal election three years ago. The only evidence before your committee relative to this charge tended to show that a certain sum was used "for the good and welfare of the organization." On this charge, your committee wish to report that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant the committee in making a finding.

Second—There was some evidence before your committee tending to show that political influence from the outside has been brought to bear on the Fire Fighters' Union. On this point, your committee wish to report that since the members of the union are directly benefited or injured by the acts and conduct of their officers, as a general rule, the selection of such officers should be left solely and entirely to them. However, in the case of a union of employes in a municipal department, your committee cannot see how any good can result to the union from having men outside of the department in the capacity of union officials.

Third—Considerable evidence was presented to your committee concerning the Fire Fighters' Union. Recently, at the suggestion of the Chief of the Fire Department, and somewhat on their own initiative, some officers of the department withdrew from the Fire Fighters' Union. The evidence before your committee overwhelmingly shows that said Union is directly and positively opposed to strikes by its membership for the accomplishment of any purpose whatever. Also, that the Fire Fighters' Union is devoted to benevolent and worthy purposes, and is entitled to the confidence of our citizens. The evidence before your committee also overwhelmingly shows that it is in the interest of the efficiency and good morale of the department that officers and men belong to the same organization.

Your committee, therefore, respectfully report and recommend that the officers and men in the Fire Department should belong to one and the same organization.

Fourth—On the question of the advisability of the recent change in Civil Service rules relative to the Fire Department in setting up a line of promotion from Captain to Battalion Chief, your committee report as follows:

Under Section 12, Chapter 19 of the Charter, the Civil Service Commission is entrusted with the power of determining whether an employe or a position is of a higher or lower rank in respect to other employes or positions. This is not an arbitrary power. The Charter sets up several guides to be followed by the Commission in reaching decisions in such matters. Subdivision "i" of Section 7, said chapter, reads: "Promotion shall be deemed, among other things, to include increase in salary." Thus, the Charter states that an increase in salary, though not in itself controlling, is a fact strongly tending to show a promotion. Section 12, said chapter, shows that the duties involved are to be considered in reaching a decision as to whether in a given case there is a promotion, in that it provides: "Each grade shall comprise those offices, employments and positions having substantially similar duties."

Considering our Charter provision and the fact that a Battalion Chief draws $50.00 more per month than a Captain, and has duties and powers broader than those of a Captain, your committee cannot say that the Civil Service Commission has acted unreasonably or arbitrarily in determining that a promotion does in fact exist from Captain to Battalion Chief.

Once the Civil Service Commission has reasonably determined that a promotion does in fact exist, its duty under the Charter to set up rules for promotional examinations is clear. In mandatory language Section 12, said chapter, says "The Commission shall by rule indicate the lines of promotion from each lower to higher grade wherever the experience in the lower grade tends to qualify for the higher. The Commission shall prescribe standards of efficiency for each office, position and employment and for each grade and to adapt its examinations thereto." Subdivision "i," Section 7, said chapter, says among other things: "The rules shall be framed to encourage the filling of vacancies by promotion rather than otherwise." To use the words of our City Attorney, "The provisions of this section so clearly make it the duty of the Civil Service Commission to frame rules providing for the filling of vacancies by promotion based on competitive examination, rather than otherwise, as to need no comment." The filling of vacancies otherwise, is permitted only in exceptional cases under Section 16, which provides that in case of a position requiring peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or expert character, the Commission, upon satisfactory evidence that competition is impracticable, may, after an open hearing, and by the vote of all three members in the affirmative, suspend competition. This section is a clear exception to the general rule, and has many safeguards embraced within it. It states positively that no such suspension shall be general in its application to such position. It further provides that all such cases of suspension shall be reported together with the reasons therefor in the annual reports of the Commission.

However, since your committee from the evidence before it, based largely on the testimony of the Chief of the Fire Department himself, feel that the Civil Service Commission did not act unreasonably or arbitrarily in determining that a change from Captain to Battalion Chief is infact a promotion, the Section 16, above set forth, cannot affect the advisability of creating the new rule, since that section itself emphatically states that: "No such suspension shall be general in its application to such position."

Your committee must therefore report that in creating the rule for a promotional line from Captain to Battalion Chief, the Civil Service Commission acted only in strict compliance with the Civil Service chapter of our Charter.

Therefore, the question of the advisability of such change in rules must necessarily give way to the question whether the Civil Service chapter of our Charter, as it now stands, is conducive of efficiency and good morale in the Fire and other City Departments.

It appeared to your committee that there are three methods of making promotions above the rank of Captain in the Fire Department:

First—To allow the Chief the power to promote, with the aid of his immediate assistants.

Second—To allow the men eligible to the higher grade themselves to select a man from among their own number.

Third—By examination through Civil Service.

As to the first method, it appears that a Chief, especially one under Civil Service, and not directly dependent on political influence, does not cherish such power. It so appears from evidence before your committee. It is true that a private business would be under a serious handicap if a manager in charge of a department could not have a free hand in making promotions within his department. However, there is a distinction between a private business and a municipal department such as the Fire Department. While the Chief of the Fire Department is not directly dependent for his position upon political influence because he is under Civil Service, nevertheless, it is apparent to anyone in touch with municipal affairs, that he is indirectly dependent upon the City Council, a political body, for his appropriations and the successful carrying out of his policies. Pressure might well be exerted by office holders upon the Chief to select for promotion men skilled more as politicians than as fire fighters. We are then confronted with the choice of Civil Service or "spoils system" in the higher offices of the Fire Department.

The second method, namely, to allow the eligible men to select a man from their own number for a promotion, might work well in an exceptional case; but it has so many apparent natural drawbacks, that it would be unwise to establish permanently such a policy.

The third method, and the method which your committee recommends should be adhered to, is to allow the promotion to be made through Civil Service examinations under the direction of competent examiners of recognized fire fighting ability, under both oral and written questions, only after first consulting the Department head as to the qualifications required, and the duties involved.

In conclusion, on this question your committee wishes to report that Civil Service, although democratic, has apparent weaknesses. It is apparent, too, that the "spoils system" has very serious defects. The public must choose the lesser of two evils.

Your committee further wishes to report that our Civil Service chapter has flexibility in Section 16, in making provision for waiving competition in exceptional cases; and your committee most urgently recommends that the Civil Service Commission, in determining whether a certain appointment comes within such exception, give the utmost consideration and respect to the head of the department affected, so that the spirit of the law may be observed and Civil Service properly administered.

Further, your committee wishes to report that the Charter provides that consideration should be given to efficiency in making promotions. The head of a department is best qualified to grade a man on his efficiency in the service. Your committee therefore recommends that the Civil Service Commission revert to its former practice and give some weight to efficiency. Your committee believes that the welfare of city service can best be served by allowing the head of the department to grade applicants on this item.

Civil Service is a tool, and should be properly handled. If any certain Commission, at any time, should improperly administer the Civil Service chapter, proper authorities may take action to guard the spirit of the law by seeking their removal. In seeking the correction of abuses, if any exist, that is the proper course to pursue, lest in seeking the correction of such abuses, we deal a fatal blow to the principle of Civil Service itself, which is aimed to do away with the "spoils system."

By the adoption of this report, the City Clerk is hereby directed and instructed to transmit copies thereof to the Mayor, the members and Secretary of the Civil Service Commission, and the heads of City Boards and Departments.

From the Standing Committee on Public Grounds and Buildings—

Your committee reports submission of written opinion from the City Attorney regarding carrying liability insurance on city property, of which the following is a portion: "I assume that the liability insurance is to protect city employes in case of claims or suits against them for damages to persons or property caused by such employes while in the employ of the city. It is my opinion that whether or not the city may be liable for negligent acts of employes, in no case has the City Council authority to use public funds for the protection of empolyes in respect to suits or claims against them for injuries to persons or property resulting from negligence of the employes. It seems to me that this is clearly a case of devoting public funds to private purposes. As to whether aldermen are individually liable in such case depends upon the application of the second paragraph of section 21, chapter II of the city charter which is as follows:

Any elective or appointive officer of the City of Minneapolis, or any person employed in the services of the City of Minneapolis, who shall willfully violate or evade any of the provisions of law, or commit any fraud upon the city, or convert any of the public property to his own use or knowingly permit any other person to convert it, or by gross or culpable neglect of duty allow the same to be lost to the city, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and in addition to the penalties imposed by law and on conviction, shall forfeit his office and be excluded forever after from receiving or holding any office under the charter of the City of Minneapolis and shall be liable to refund to the city at the suit of any taxpayer or citizen, any amount lost to said city by reason of any such violation of law.

"It seems to me that in a given case where the City Council causes public funds to be expended for the protection of employes, where no liability can exist against the city, the provisions of this section apply."

We respectfully recommend, in view of the foregoing opinion, that all liability of insurance be allowed to expire without renewal and that no liability insurance be carried in the future with the exception of that in the Water Works Department, which department is operated for profit.

Frank Giebenhain, A. R. Gisslen, John Peterson, C. H. Rudsdil, Committee.

From the Standing Committee on Sewers—

Your committee respectfully report and recommend that the City Council of the City of Minneapolis grant to the City of Columbia Heights, a municipal corporation in the County of Anoka and State of Minnesota, the right and authority to connect with the Minneapolis Sewer System at such time and at such places as the City Engineer of Minneapolis sanctions and in the following considerations and terms.

Permission is only hereby given to connect to the Minneapolis sewer system a "Sanitary Sewer System" it being understood that no rainwater from roofs, yards, lawns, streets and alleys will be admitted to the Columbia Heights Sewers and that such sewers are to be constructed as nearly impervious as practically possible to ground water reaching them, and it being understood that any intentional violation of this clause may be the basis for cancellation of this contract.

Before any such connections are permitted to be made with the Minneapolis sewers, plans and specifications for the Columbia Heights Sewers must first be submitted to the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis and duly approved by him as to compliance with the provisions of this report, and to such other requirements as the City Engineer of Minneapolis may deem proper.

The construction, installation, repair or improvement of any part of said sanitary sewers within the City of Minneapolis shall be done by and under the direction of the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis, and the expense therefor shall be paid by the City of Columbia Heights upon duly certified bills presented by the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis, and connection with or discharge into the Minneapolis system, shall not be permitted until the expense of such construction or installation is first paid.

The City of Minneapolis and its Engineering Department or any employe of said city so authorized, shall be permitted to inspect the construction as well as the operation of the sewer system in the City of Columbia Heights to see that the same is being constructed and operated according to plans and specifications and that the mutual agreement herein contained is being compiled with, such inspections, inasfar as they are reasonably necessary to protect the City of Minneapolis, to be paid for by the City of Columbia Heights upon bills rendered by the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis.

The City of Columbia Heights, shall upon the connection of said sanitary sewers to the Minneapolis system and the commencement of their operation, immediately pay to the City of Minneapolis the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250), as and for the annual rental for the right to discharge their sewer from said sanitary sewers into the Minneapolis sewer system, and one year from said date and annually thereafter a sum of money not less than said Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250) to be computed by the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis, and to be in an amount as much more than Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250) as the proportion which the increased volume of sewage discharged into the Minneapolis system for any subsequent year bears to the volume of sewage discharged during the first year.

During the construction of the Columbia Heights sewers special care must be exercised in not allowing any gravel, sand, dirt, or any other heavy material to be washed or carried into the Minneapolis sewers, and when expense is incurred in cleaning the Minneapolis sewers, due to any such substances being carried into them, then such expense must be paid by the City of Columbia Heights upon bills to be rendered by the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis.

The City of Columbia Heights shall also bear its fair proportion of the expense of cleaning that portion of the Minneapolis sewers, which are affected by the discharge of sewage from the Columbia Heights sewer system and in such proportion as the volume of the Columbia Heights sewage bears to the total volume of sewage carried by the Minneapolis sewers affected thereby and such payment to be made upon bills computed and rendered by the City Engineer of Minneapolis.

The permission hereby granted shall only include the right to extend such sanitary sewers within the present territorial limits of the City of Columbia Heights. Whenever in the future, relief sewers or storm drains or enlargement become necessary to either of the Minneapolis sewers carrying off the Columbia Heights sewage, the City of Columbia Heights must then bear a fair and proportionate part of the expense of such improvement to be computed by the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis, and bill rendered therefor.

No grit, dirt, or heavy substances of any kind shall be permitted by the City of Columbia Heights to be dumped into its sewers.

In the event the City of Minneapolis may have to, or decides to purify its sewage, the City of Columbia Heights must pay a fair proportion of the expense of such treatment as well as a fair proportion of the cost involved in the construction of the purification plant, the amount thereof to be determined by the City Engineer of the City of Minneapolis, and bill duly rendered therefor.

In case any obnoxious smells or gases should develop in Minneapolis sewers, due to a discharge into the Columbia Heights sewers of any substances causing any extraordinary obnoxious smells or gases, such nuisance must be eliminated by the City of Columbia Heights at its own expense upon notice and when requested to by the City of Minneapolis, and a failure to comply with such notice within a reasonable time, shall constitute a basis for the annulment of this permission by the City of Minneapolis.

The City of Minneapolis shall not be responsible to any person, firm or corporation in the City of Columbia Heights for damages claimed as a result of the backing up of sewers in any basement in the City of Columbia Heights, and in the event of suit for damage, the City of Columbia Heights shall immediately intervene and defend against any and pay all damages which may be recovered by any such person, firm or corporation.

The permission hereby granted and this agreement shall take effect and be in force from and after the passage of a resolution by the City Council of the City of Columbia Heights accepting the terms and conditions of the permission hereby granted, which acceptance shall be filed with the City Clerk of the City of Minneapolis, and shall continue for a period of twenty years unless sooner cancelled, determined or annulled as hereinafter provided or unless extended as herein provided.

The City of Columbia Heights shall have the right to cancel said permission and agreement at any time or at such time as it shall make other arrangements for handling its sewage, provided that if cancellation by the City of Columbia Heights is at any other date than the payment of the annual rental, it shall pay to the City of Minneapolis such proportion of the annual rental herein provided for as the period it has then used the Minneapolis sewers after the annual rental date to one year.

If at any time in the judgment of the City Engineer or by action of the City of Minneapolis, it is found or determined that the Minneapolis sewer system cannot any longer care for or dispose of the sewage being discharged from the City of Columbia Heights, or for any other reason, the City of Minneapolis shall have the right, upon six months notice, to vacate and cancel said permission and agreement and to thereafter stop any further discharge of such sewage into the Minneapolis sewers.

The City of Minneapolis shall also have the right to vacate, cancel and annul permission and agreement upon such notice for any violation of the terms and conditions hereof.

At the conclusion of the twenty-year period herein provided as to duration of said permission and agreement, the parties hereto may, upon six months notice to either party, cancel, determine and conclude the same or may by mutual agreement extend the operation of the same for annual periods or for such other period as the conditions surrounding the operation and maintenance of such sewage system justify or as long as the conditions herein provided can prevail.

We further recommend that the proper city officers be authorized and directed to execute a contract as outlined in the above report.
